Address loo...com

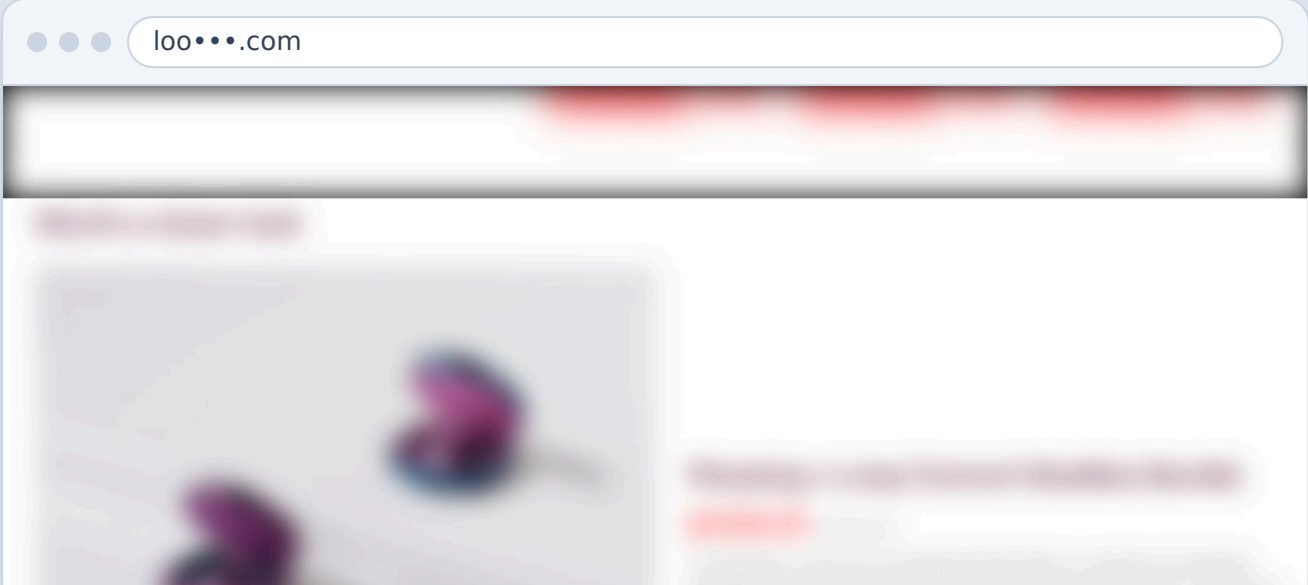

Found on An independent web store

WHY WE THINK IT’S A COPYCAT

- Uses Sample Brand’s name in the web address and the page itself (Sample Brand does not use this address).
- Copies wording word for word from Sample Brand’s own site (quote hidden in this sample).
- Its photos match Sample Brand’s product photos (strong image match).
- Price seen: Product A at $17.99 and Product B at $29.95, shown as cut from $34.95 and $59.95.
- The domain was registered on 7 Sep 2026 (53 days old), recently for a store using Sample Brand’s name.
- The word 'official' is in the address, but the site is not run by Sample Brand.

✓ Checked live on 30 October 2026, with screenshot evidence

Reviewer note: Opened live on 30 Oct 2026: the site copies Sample Brand's own text and product photos.

How a takedown works

Clone stores and web shops

3 items in this report.

1

Identify the host

We find who hosts each store and which registrar holds the domain. If it runs on Shopify, the report goes through Shopify's own intellectual-property form.

2

File the notice

We send the trademark and copyright notice to the host and the registrar (and the platform, where there is one), listing each URL with our evidence.

3

Follow up and prove it

We track every notice until the page is down, answer any reply, and send you proof of removal.

What we need from you

One signed authorisation. Platforms will only act on a report from the brand owner or its authorised agent.

- The brand owner named exactly as on your trademark registration.
- Your marks, registration numbers and the countries they cover.
- Wording that lets us act on your behalf and sign notices for you.
- Your list of authorised resellers, so a genuine seller is never reported.

HOW WE CHECK BEFORE WE FILE

Every hit is opened live and checked before it reaches you, and each one comes with a dated screenshot; nothing is added to a report until the page has been opened and confirmed. Nothing is filed without your signed authorisation, and we never file on genuine resellers: every item is compared with your list of authorised sellers first.

NEXT STEP

Want these gone?

Reply to this report or write to us and we will send the one-page authorisation for Sample Brand. Once it is signed we start filing, and we keep watching for new copycats every month. Month-to-month, no lock-in.
